3335-23-02 Jurisdiction.

The code applies to the on-campus conduct of all students and registered student organizations, including conduct using university computing or network resources. The code also applies to the off-campus conduct of students and registered student organizations in direct connection with:

(A) Academic course requirements or any credit bearing experiences, such as internships, field trips, study abroad, or student teaching;

(B) Any activity supporting pursuit of a degree, such as research at another institution or a professional practice assignment;

The code may be applied to behavior conducted online, via e-mail, text, or other electronic medium. Students should also be aware that online postings such as web postings and social networking sites are in the public sphere and are not private. These postings can subject a student to allegations of conduct violations if evidence of policy violations is posted online. The university does not routinely search for violations of this code, but may take action if and when such information comes to the attention of university officials.

Students or a registered student organization may also be held accountable for their guest’s or member’s behavior when the student or members of the registered student organization has knowledge of, facilitates, or contributes to the guest’s or member’s misconduct.

The code governs all campuses of the university. However, Students attending regional campuses, centers, or institutes are advised to consult their local resources for additional information or rules pertaining to those locations, which may create hearing bodies or processes for the locations, consistent with these rules.

The university reserves the right to administer the code and proceed with the hearing process even if the student withdraws from the university, is no longer enrolled in classes, or subsequently fails to meet the definition of a student while a disciplinary matter is pending. The university may, within its discretion, place a hold or other notation on the student’s transcript while the matter is pending. The university may, within its discretion, place a hold or other notation on the student’s transcript while the matter is pending.
